COOKIE POLICY

HEDNO S.A. (hereinafter the "company") aims at making your online experience and interaction with the website www.deddie.gr (hereinafter the "website") as clear and transparent as possible. In this spirit, this policy about cookies (hereinafter the "Policy") provides detailed information about the type and use of cookies.

1. WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are small text files sent to the browser when someone visits a website and are stored by the website central server on the hard drive of the computer or any other electronic device of the user. The cookies are unique for each web browser, i.e. Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Internet Explorer etc, and include anonymous information relating to the sites visited by the user. Their basic function is to facilitate your Internet access and surfing.

2. WHAT KIND OF COOKIES DO WE SELECT?

CATEGORY	NAME	SOURCE	DURATION
#3 Functionality Cookies	CookiesDisclaimer, popup	Custom code	Session Cookies (until the browser closes)
Performance, Analysis & Research Cookies	Cookies _ga, _gat, _gid	Google Analytics	2 years 24 hours & 1 min

3. WHAT ARE THE PURPOSES OF COLLECTING COOKIES?

3.1. Essential cookies

Cookies exclusively used by us for the proper running of our website. They allow you to surf the website and use its functions, i.e. access to safe areas etc. All preferences and settings stored in the cookies (i.e. country, connection information, surfing settings etc) cannot identify your personal identity. Without them we cannot offer an effective website operation.

3.2. Performance, Analysis & Research Cookies

Cookies that allow us to collect information about our website use to improve its attractiveness, content and functionality. These cookies, for example, allow us to see the frequency of the visits to our website giving us information about, i.e. the number of visitors but also the number of people repeating the visit, the number of visits to one of the pages, the order of such visits, the words used in the search field, the location of the user etc. Furthermore, these cookies record the movements, the clicks and the mouse scrolling when you surf our website.

3.3. Functionality Cookies

These are cookies allowing our website to "remember" your choices to provide you with improved and customized functions. Furthermore, they can be used when you choose one of the website capabilities, i.e. sharing its content in the social media or showing a video. Take into account that non-acceptance of these cookies can affect the functionality of our website and restrict its capabilities.

3.4. Security Cookies

Cookies used to maintain, support and improve the security mechanisms of our website to detect any malicious activity and violations of the terms of use.

4. HOW CAN YOU MANAGE COOKIES?

Apart from the cookies that are essential to run our website and the security cookies, you can, if you wish, to be exempted from the use of the other cookies by choosing "deactivated" in the above categories of cookies. Take into account that you can delete all cookies stored in your computer or any other mobile device and set most of the browsers to prevent their storage. If you do the above, you may need to manually adapt some of your preferences each time you visit our website, while some of its functions and capabilities may not be running.

5. AMENDMENT OF THE POLICY AND UPDATING

We may amend this Policy at intervals to always comply with the legal requirements and our business activities. If we decide to replace this Policy or to make very significant changes, we will inform you by making a note on our website. To be informed about the most recent version of our Policy, please check this website regularly.
