The Hymettus project Is fully lawful

HEDNO remains committed to ensuring safe and reliable operation for the electricity distribution network, with public safety and environmental protection as top priorities.

The undergrounding of the R-350 line on Mount Hymettus is fully lawful, based on approved technical and environmental studies, and is being implemented under the Recovery and Resilience Plan, as part of the national plan to modernize and strengthen the country's energy infrastructure.

HEDNO welcomes the decision of the Municipality of Glyfada to pursue the matter through legal channels, so that the facts can be established clearly—free from impression-driven narratives and unproductive confrontation.
